The transportation industry provides services to convey people or goods from one place to another, as well as develop and maintain the related infrastructure; this sector also includes the storage or warehousing of goods.

"The net value of transportation infrastructure and other assets ... was $8.9 trillion in 2020. The public sector owned $4.9 trillion, while the private sector owned $4.0 trillion."

— U.S. DOT, Bureau of Transportation Statistics (2022)

Career Advisor Corner

Research companies before paying for a commercial driver license (CDL). Some employers are willing to provide training and fund the cost of the CDL upon hiring.

Complete an internship. The time invested can often count toward employers’ work-experience requirements or to partially satisfy ASE certificate requirements.
